PROGRAM OPPORTUNITIES & PRIORITIES

Ensuring the future of our hunting heritage is also a vital part of RMEF's work. Hunters and anglers were among the first crusaders for conservation and remain today's most important conservation supporters and leaders. RMEF supplies grants for hunting heritage and conservation education programs to help people of all ages learn more about hunting's link to conservation and engage them in hunting and other outdoor pursuits. Outdoor skills programs or events, hunter or conservation outreach, mentored hunts and other activities receive support from RMEF's hunting heritage efforts.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

To date, RMEF supported 6,255 hunting heritage and conservation outreach projects across the country, impacting over 8.6 million youth and adults participating in these programs. RMEF contributed more than $21 million to these efforts, leveraging more than $119 million from partners for these programs and activities.

*Hunting Heritage & Conservation Outreach Grants are available in all U.S. States except Hawaii.
